

Little House Living's 2016 Gift Guide

Wait, what?...Christmas? Can it be Christmas already? Well, not quite, but it's coming and before we know it, it will be here! For those of us that like to be prepared, now is the time to start searching for that perfect gift. Do you want to give gifts that are useful or that will last a lifetime? Maybe something that supports a small business or is part of a natural lifestyle? Whatever you are looking for, we hope you might find it here on the Little House living Christmas Gift Guide.

Why? I love a thoughtful homemade gift just as much as you do and they will always be a special part of our Christmas, but we also use the gift giving season to purchase things that we need and that will help us along in our simple living lifestyle. Sometimes it's hard to find that inspiration for the perfect gift. Short of the person telling you exactly what they want, it's just hard to know! We hope that this gift guide will be filled with things that you know your friends and family will love so you will be able to find something perfect for them.

What is it? The gift guide is a list of companies that we've put together that fit the Little House Living values. They provide products for a simpler lifestyle, natural products, or products for quality items that will last your family a lifetime. The gift guide will not only showcase businesses with these values, but it will also offer discounts on their products to help you with your holiday budget. Awesome! So without further ado....introducing the 2016 Gift Guide!

The Company: SmartGames

About the Company & the Products: Each SmartGame is carefully designed and produced using quality materials that last. And with so many included challenges, each game can be replayed over and over again.

Challenges are divided into 4 or 5 levels of difficulty. You start with the easiest challenges. Gradually, the challenges get more difficult, so that they stay interesting and fun.

Merissa's Thoughts: The games that SmartGames offer are so much fun! I love the little travel games that they have, perfect for long car rides or road trips. We are trying out the Little Red Riding Hood game and my preschooler loves this.

The Product: GeoSmart

About the Company & the Products: Featuring a patented double-safety system, bright colors, and unique playing elements, Geosmart offers unsurpassed safety and durability for endless creative play! By using squares, triangles, rectangles, diamonds, isosceles triangles and trapezoids kids can create endless combinations, whatever their imagination tells them. Just use the 6 different shapes or combine them with some unique pieces like wheels, lights or a remote control which strongly increase the play value.

Merissa's Thoughts: GeoSmart products are perfect for those that love magnets and open-ended play. We are loving the GeoSphere which features squares and triangles and plenty of building experiences.
