

{Brag Worthy Christmas} GeoSmart STEM-Focused Magnetic Construction Toys!

Construction toys are my favorite because they give kids the opportunity to use their imagination and logic to build to their hearts content! I think construction toys are so important for brain development- and with the push towards STEM educational toys, there is nothing better in my book than GeoSmart STEM-Focused Magnetic Construction Toys! We LOVE our new Lunar Rover set! The wheels run so smoothly and the possibilities for car building is endless. These magnetic construction toys are perfect for anyone over 5. Seriously- I enjoy them! And when my Mother-in-law and 24 year old nephew came for Thanksgiving, they both couldn't keep their hands off of them either! They're so fun! I love how much my boys enjoy them, and also how much they are making positive brain connections at the same time. Win/win. These are very durable and their safety precautions are top notch. They make SUCH a great Christmas gift! What I have learned is that construction toys of any kind are not cheap- they come with a decent price tag, but the beauty is that they can be passed down from generation to generation. These things last. And in my opinion, the learning combined with pure entertainment is priceless!
