GeoSmart Lunar Rover has kept both my boys entertained for hours!

My boys love to construct and build things. They spend a ton of time daily on legos and building blocks so I knew they would love the GeoSmart Lunar Rover. This has been so much fun for the entire family. This neat magnetic building toy has so many options that you can make with it! You can do a more complex rover, or a more basic one depending on your skill level.

Something that is very important to me is safety because we have a little one in the house. The Geosmart toys are safe because the magnets are contained in a double welded core. This makes for a very tough toy that is safe and fun to play with!

Lunar Rover includes 30 pieces:

- 9 Squares.
- 1 Rectangles.
- 8 Triangles.
- 4 Diamonds.
- 2 Trapezoids.
- 4 Wheels.
- 2 Wheel Boxes.

Both of my boys ages 9 and 4 love this. I love to see them play with it as well because it uses their imagination, works on their fine motor skills and allows them to play and interact together in a positive manner instead of fighting and rough housing like they usually do.

The price point on this toy seems on par with other magnetic construction toys I have seen, and they are definitely built to last. Overall, I am very impressed and happy with the GeoSmart Lunar Rover and play on purchasing other kits! These make excellent Christmas gifts for kids who love building and constructing!
