GeoSmart Toy Giveaway: A Universe of Building Fun for the Holidays!

My kids all love construction toys and magnets. GeoSmart has combined the two and come up with something awesome!

There are 10 different magnetic construction sets in the new line by GeoSmart... some of which are even remote-controlled! We had an opportunity to review the Lunar Rover which is super cool. The prices range from $29.99 to $139 for a 100 piece set. You check the whole collection out on Amazon.

The Lunar Rover has 30 colorful, geometric pieces and comes with an idea guide to inspire more creativity and get the brain juices flowing. My son hasn't seen this one yet--it will be under the tree on Christmas!

All of the GeoSmart toys have great reviews on Amazon! Add one of them to your wishlist just in case you don't win the giveaway...
